Dear Ms. Lazarska,

Thank you again for all the time and effort that you and so many others put in to make the "Recovering Forgotten History" conference such a success. I found it a meaningful and enlightening exchange of information and ideas. Having the opportunity to meet Polish scholars and realize that my authors' U.S.-oriented conceptual framework is far too narrow was both humbling and important for strengthening the books I publish on Europe.

I am especially grateful to the local experts who took such time and care to critique every detail of the manuscripts. I know my authors and I found the criticism and suggestions very useful for enhancing their work and structuring a full-scale revision plan.

You have such a beautiful and dynamic country, filled with centuries of history that enrich one's every step. I feel I understand and appreciate both the beauty and the sorrow Poland has endured much more deeply now.

Cordially,

Susan McEachern

Editorial Director
